Who we are

Endoscopy on Air (EoA) is the fastest growing online educational platform, dedicated to endoscopy medical practice and bridging mainstream medicine with medical innovation.

We are becoming the biggest online library of audio-visual medical content, vetted by top specialists across the world.

Our mission

To continuously provide greater access to medical knowledge and create outstanding medical educational content that reaches physicians globally.
At any time and any place.

On this occasion, we are creating an international online symposium on Eosinophilic Esophagitis, which we believe will become a stepping-stone for increasing HCP awareness on this chronic disease.
